

Berkeley Historical Society
Speakers Series

David Weinstein Presents

Berkeley's Lost Movie Theaters

Sunday, January 20, 2013
From 2:00 pm to 4:00 pm

The History Center
1931 Center Street, Berkeley, CA
Phone: 501-848-0181

The Strand Theater 1915

Dave Weinstein will talk about Berkeley's fabulous history as a movie-mad town, a place that at one time had "more theater screens in a concentrated area than any other place in Northern California," and a town that is said to have given birth to the repertory cinema!

Learn about some of Berkeley's first theaters and some of its most beautiful. Hear about some tragic losses and some magnificent wins in efforts to preserve cinema palaces.

See what some of Berkeley's vanished theaters looked like what they were new -- and what they look like today.

And bring your memories, as we are trying to track down more historic theaters!

For information about the Berkeley Historical Society, follow us on Facebook or on our Website: www.BerkeleyHistoricalSociety.org